

PROGRAMME

The GLDA's 16th International Seminar The National Botanic Gardens Glasnevin – 28th January 2012

Bio "Diversity" & Sustain "Ability" in Design,...isn't that the Question?`

Proudly supported by Bord Bia organizers of Bloom

Registration & parking at the Addison Lodge Hotel across from the road from
The National Botanic Gardens from 8:45am -9:45am

(Latecomers will not gain access to the auditorium until the morning coffee break)

8:45 – 9.45	Registration Tea/Coffee Toast
10am – 10.15	Introduction By GLDA Chairman David Shortall
10.15 – 11.15	Mathew Jebb: Title: "The Science of Botany being not only generally useful, but even abfolutely neceffary to us Mortals"(Old English)
11.15 – 11.45	Morning coffee
11.45 – 12.45	Phil Askew: Title: 'The 2012 Olympic Park - a sustainable legacy for London'
12.45 – 1.15	Presentation by Bord Bia Presentations to New Full Members
1.15 – 2.30	Lunch break at the Addison Lodge Hotel No food or beverages permitted in the auditorium
2.30 – 3.30	Rick Darke: Title: "The Layered Landscape: Design Ethics for the Nature of Today's Gardens"
3.30– 4pm	Q/A Seminar Finish